

CONFERENCE 2019, TORONTO ONTARIO

SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITOR OPPORTUNITIES

December 2019

Dear Friend,

The Food Processing Skills Canada (FPSC) invites you to join us at our tenth annual Speaking Food conference on Friday, May 24th, 2019 hosted at the beautiful Bram & Bluma Appel Salon, in the newly built Toronto Reference Library on 789 Yonge St. Toronto. This location is minutes away from this year's accommodations at the Toronto Marriott Bloor Yorkville.

Join us at this year's premier event, for a full day of lively discussions, insightful speakers, interactive workshops, industry networking and more! Don't miss our panel discussion on what it takes to become the next generation's employer of choice by learning how to successfully attract, retain & integrate these future leaders; find out how local food processors are gaining a competitive edge; experience the launch of new and exciting industry resources; engage in riveting discussions on some of the most pressing issues facing the industry today including Immigration and Food Safety.

Becoming a sponsor or exhibitor at the Speaking Food conference is an ideal way to:

- Connect with key industry stakeholders and decision makers;
- Attract new customers and visit with existing ones;
- Showcase your products and services;
- Increase your company's visibility;
- Show support for the processing industry
- Benefit from great public exposure.

The FPSC is offering four official levels of sponsorship and space for 12 exhibitor booth placements. Booths are strategically placed in common areas where exhibitors can showcase their products and services during breaks and throughout the industry reception. We are always looking for new ways to increase our sponsor benefits for your company and our conference participants; any suggestions for sponsorship, including in-kind contributions, are always welcome.

CONFERENCE 2019, TORONTO ONTARIO

Expected conference attendance is 100+, comprising representatives from all food and beverage manufacturing sub-sectors across Canada. FPSC events attract the best and the brightest in the food manufacturing community and appeal to every level, including presidents, CEOs, workers, government officials, academia, industry associations, consultants and buyers.

We carefully plan our event so that conference sponsors and exhibitors are presented in a thoughtful and well positioned format. From the conference programming to the food and venue choices, we plan every detail to ensure our attendees feel comfortable.

If you have any questions regarding sponsorships or exhibitor opportunities, please feel free to contact Tiffany Ellis by email tellis@fp-sc.ca or by phone at 613-237-7988.

Sincerely,

Jennefer Griffith
